HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

Start with the source documents

A flagged question is a reason to request records, not proof of an overcharge.

01 Read the lease and amendments

Find expense definitions, exclusions, caps, tenant share, audit rights, and notice requirements.

02 Match the statement to its year

Record each category, the property's cost pool, your share, estimated payments, and credits.

03 Check each item below

Mark the items you can confirm. Use the worksheet for items needing a source page or invoice.

Gather before you begin

Signed lease + amendments / annual reconciliation / prior-year bill / payment ledger / available invoices and area schedules.

Deadline first

Find the review and notice provisions in your own lease. Record the delivery date and confirm the exact method and deadline for a records request or objection.

Fees and capital costs

For each item, compare the bill with the actual lease wording and request support where needed.

01 Administrative and management fees

- [ ] 01 Fee rate
  Does the billed rate match the rate and any cap in your lease?
- [ ] 02 Fee base
  Is the percentage applied only to categories the lease includes?
- [ ] 03 Duplicate fees
  Are management and administrative amounts charged separately as permitted?
- [ ] 04 Credits and offsets
  Were credits applied before the fee base was calculated, if required?

02 Capital and project costs

- [ ] 05 Capital treatment
  Does the lease allow this project as an operating pass-through?
- [ ] 06 Useful life
  If allowed, do amortization terms match the lease and project records?
- [ ] 07 Interest and savings
  Are financing or expense-reduction assumptions documented?
- [ ] 08 Other exclusions
  Check lease treatment of structural work, leasing costs, and overhead.

Share and expense categories

A category can be correctly totaled but still allocated on the wrong basis.

03 Tenant share and cost pools

- [ ] 09 Your area
  Does the rentable area match the signed lease and amendments?
- [ ] 10 Denominator
  Is the property's total area supported by a current area schedule?
- [ ] 11 Share calculation
  Recalculate the percentage used on the statement.
- [ ] 12 Separate pools
  Are building, retail, office, or special-service pools assigned consistently?
- [ ] 13 Vacancy and gross-up
  Check the lease method and supporting occupancy schedule.

04 Expense categories

- [ ] 14 Insurance
  Match the billed premium and allocation to policy and property records.
- [ ] 15 Taxes
  Confirm the tax year, parcel, credits, and lease-specific treatment.
- [ ] 16 Utilities
  Check meters, shared usage, and any separately billed amounts.
- [ ] 17 Vendor services
  Request detail for material contracts and services charged.
- [ ] 18 New or excluded items
  Compare every new category with the lease's exclusions.

Trends and review rights

Large changes are questions to investigate. A deadline comes from your lease, not from a standard rule.

05 Year-over-year comparison

- [ ] 19 Total change
  Compare the annual totals for the same property and cost pool.
- [ ] 20 Category change
  Identify items with a material change and request an explanation.
- [ ] 21 Reclassification
  Track costs moved between capped and uncapped categories.
- [ ] 22 Payment credits
  Reconcile monthly estimates and other credits to your ledger.

06 Audit window and procedure

- [ ] 23 Delivery date
  Record when the statement was delivered or received.
- [ ] 24 Deadline
  Find the exact review, objection, and records-request periods.
- [ ] 25 Notice method
  Check recipient, address, delivery method, and required wording.

Do not wait for perfect information

If a contractual deadline may be close, review the notice clause promptly and seek qualified advice about preserving your rights.

WORKING WORKSHEET

Turn a flag into a question

Use one row for each item you want to verify. Record source pages before discussing an amount.

Property / suite _____

A dollar figure needs a basis

An illustrative difference is not a verified refund. Confirm the lease rule, billing records, allocation, payments, and any applicable deadline.

COPY AND ADAPT

Request the records you need

Before sending

Confirm the correct recipient and delivery method in your lease. If a deadline is near, seek advice about the required notice.

YOUR NEXT STEPS

Leave with a clear plan

The checklist helps organize questions. A determination requires the signed documents and supporting records.

01 Mark what is supported

Keep the lease pages, statement pages, and arithmetic together.

02 Request what is missing

Ask for the underlying ledger, invoices, area schedule, fee basis, and payment credits.

03 Check the clock

Follow the review and notice provisions in your own lease.

QUICK GLOSSARY

CAM: common area maintenance. NNN: taxes, insurance, and operating expenses passed through under a triple net lease. Pro rata share: the percentage allocated to a tenant. Gross-up: an occupancy adjustment, if the lease allows one.
